ALPINE SOLDIERS
DO THEIR FIGHTING
FROM TREE TOPS

FAVORITE STRATAGEM IS TO CONCEAL THEMSELVES IN FOREST.

(By Associated Press.)
BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 28.—The mountain war going on in the Vosges has brought into action one of the most interesting bodies of French troops, the Alpine Chasseurs. They are finely built, powerful men, specially equipped for the mountains. They are dressed in hob-nailed boots, woolen leggings and navy blue uniforms. They are almost invisible in the dark pine forests.

A favorite stratagem in their fighting is to occupy positions in the branches of the trees cleverly masked and so securely arranged that even a wounded or a dead man does not fall. Another device of the French Alpine troops is for a part of them, secreted in the branches, to hold their rifle fire until German troops have passed well into a wood, and then to fire upon them from all sides. The light artillery is carried upon mules.

Nye County Voters

To My Friends in Nye County:
I am credibly informed, that a scheme is being framed up by a political machine to send literature to the outlying districts, advising voters not to support me, for fear that a Socialist candidate for Treasurer of Nye county be elected. Later, when there is no chance to reply, this same literature is to be mailed to voters in Tonopah. I believe the voters in Tonopah understand the situation and the motives of this machine perfectly and will not be misled.

I want it distinctly understood that I do not accuse either of my opponents; neither do I think they are aware of this scheme, for so far they have treated me as gentlemen.

FRANCE PROMOTES BUSINESS FOR SMALL TRADERS

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO FIND
OUTLET FOR THE FACTORIES.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 28.—French trade aggregating 1,800,000,000 francs, or $260,000,000 a year is thrown into the market as a result of the war. Such was the total value of goods purchased by France last year from Germany and Austria, the balance of trade being in favor of Germany to the amount of 205,000,000 francs and in favor of Austria to the amount of $4,000,000 francs.

Local committees are being organized with a view to placing this business to the best advantage. The committee of industrial and commercial defense is taking up the interests of small manufacturers, who have not been in touch with the foreign consumer in a way to enable them to make new connections directly. Proposals are being made to English business organizations with a view to an exchange of visits in the two countries of representatives of commercial and industrial concerns. The importance of this work to the United States may be understood from the fact that of the purchases from Germany last year there were 177,000,000 francs in machinery, while France purchased from the United States only 57,000,000 francs in this line. Germany supplied 185,000,000 francs in cereals, while the United States supplied 35,000,000.

Another committee is being formed to consider the question of hotels which are, to a great extent, in the hands of Germans, while those conducted by Frenchmen had mostly German and other foreign employees. One proposition is to establish a number of hotel schools, such as the one already in operation at Thonon, where every branch of the hotel business is taught practically. French hotelkeepers in Paris have organized schools of languages for their younger employees in order to fit them to take the place of Germans, as the question of language has always been a weak point with French employees.

DEMOCRATIC ROW
IN NEW YORK STATE

OLDER DEMOCRATS ALLEGE A
LACK OF ORGANIZATION, TEAM
WORK AND CASH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—There is a rowing over the Democratic state committee, and President Wilson's attention will be called to the condition of affairs. Some of the older Democrats outside of the committee have been taking stock of things and they allow as follows:

That the real danger which threatens the Democratic ticket is disorganization, lack of effective team work, too much "boy scout tactics," and a deplorably depleted treasury.

I am told today that the state committee has just $20,000 in the till and no signs of anything coming in.

In this connection, it is an open secret that the much-depended-upon Gerard financial support has failed to materialize. The candidate for senator married into a wealthy family. When he was selected to be the candidate for senator it was expected that he would not only finance his own campaign, but would help out the state committee.

They say today that he has not "come across," but on the contrary is leaving it to the committee and his friends to raise the money, all of which is a source of keen disappointment and much chagrin to the faithful, and there are dead cries and lamentations.

While the candidates for governor are lambasting each other from the stump and adding thereby their moiety to the pay of politicians, the fight over the United States senatorship is proceeding without like attendant acrimony.

It is a one-sided affair, the absence of Ambassador Gerard preventing the opposition from attacking it.

It is a novel situation. The ambassador was handed the nomination while abroad, his campaign is being waged for him and if he is elected he will have received the office without turning over a hand. All that his adversary, James Wadsworth, Jr., can do is to attack the Democratic party, whereas Democratic speakers follow him and tell the voters how Ambassador Gerard is doing fine work in Germany for humanity and that he should be upheld by them.

Sulzer and Roosevelt are doing a vaudeville turn abusing each other. The colonel calls Sulzer a fakir and a crook, and Sulzer ridicules the colonel for complaining of bosses, charging that when in office the colonel was the biggest boss in business.

Glynn and Whitman are whacking away at each other on the topic of bossism. Whitman says Glynn is ridden by Boss Murphy, while Glynn retorts that Whitman is a stalking horse for Boss Barnes. It seems to be a case of horse and horse.

Davenport, the Bull Moose candidate, declares a plague on all their houses, and insists that he is the only unbiased candidate in the lot, overlooking the colonel, his first chief. Their campaign for congress is attracting but scant attention. Each candidate is relying upon his own resources. There is no Republican organization, such as there was in the days of Babcock, James, Sherman and Loudenslager, with provision for sending out speakers and with a big publicity bureau at work.

Few meetings are being held and the newspapers, which in former years devoted pages to local politics, now skip the accounts and ignore entirely many phases of the campaign. The Republicans count confidently upon winning from six to ten congressional districts in this state. All politicians agree the war has proved an asset to the national administration which will be shared by the Democratic party in this state. It will affect the congressional election, too, for the Republicans had counted on gaining fifteen or more districts here.

RATES REASONABLE

FROM CALIFORNIA

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION RULES IN FAVOR OF THE RAILROADS.

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Refrigeration rates on carload shipments of deciduous fruits from California points to Denver, Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York and common points were declared reasonable by the Interstate Commerce commission today.

This rate, the commission ruled, has to cover the cost of hauling ice used in refrigeration and the cost of extra switching. It decided that the existing minimum carload weight of 24,000 pounds was not unreasonable. The Railroad Commission of California was complainant.

WANT ANNEXATION TO WHITE PINE

F. C. Vanover, a prominent rancher and stockman of the Duckwater country, who spent some days in the city during the past week on business affairs, states that the people of Sunnyside, Currant Creek and Duckwater are unanimously in favor of being annexed to White Pine county during the coming session of the legislature.

The people of that section of Nye county are all much nearer Ely than to Tonopah, their county seat, and they all do their business here. During the next session they will knock for admission on the doors of the legislature. They will have a committee at Carson City during the session and will press their claims for relief from present conditions, and in this will have the united support of the delegation from White Pine.—Ely Record.

TAX COMMISSION

The following telegram was sent yesterday by the Tax Commission to all assessors of the state in relation to the tax matters, says the Carson News:

Detailed opinion of the attorney-general construing supervisory powers of Tax Commission over county officials in all matters relating to assessment rolls and collection of taxes will be mailed all interested officers Wednesday. According thereto you are hereby directed to keep assessment roll in your possession until further advised by this commission. Dates of delinquency and for beginning collection will be deferred where shown to be necessary to effect equalization.

Had Tuberculosis
of Glands—Now Well

Glandular Tuberculosis has yielded to Eckman's Alternative when other remedies failed. Read what it did in this case:
251 Lauriston St., Philadelphia, Pa.
"Gentlemen"—In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case Tuberculosis in the glands, and a number of operations in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well. On November 31, 1914, I started to work, and since that time have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis."
